Get Your Network Ready at an Unbeatable Price

Campus networks are flooded with ever-increasing volumes of traffic as students bring more mobile devices, watch more streaming video and download more content than ever before. To guarantee the performance of learning applications, reduce the impact of recreational traffic like Netflix, P2P and TOR and to avoid costly bandwidth upgrades, you need a solution that combines network monitoring, application control and bandwidth management. Prepare your campus network for this school year with our 2016 Education Program and get Exinda's Network Orchestrator at a great price until September 16, 2016.

Hear from our customers why they chose Exinda

"Without Exinda, we would not have had an idea what was going on. The solution allowed us to break out applications and see what was being used. Netflix and Hulu jumped to the top of the list and we were able to set policies to control that."

Andrew Darling, Director of IT Infrastructure at UMass Dartmouth
